Food Pantry Manager

Work closely with the rest of the team Food Pantry team to manage operations, including stocking, inventory, data collection, donations, and drop-in hours. Manage the food pantry email address and ensure that appointments get scheduled in a timely manner. Manage partnership with Student Outreach and Support (SOS). Attend weekly staff meetings and organize/manage other undergraduate employees and volunteers, and coordinate with other Center teams. Plan and run weekly meetings with graduate fellow and undergraduate teammates. Assist in preparation of quarterly and annual reports. Perform other work as required or assigned.

Passion for environmental justice and food access. Skill in working collaboratively and leadership. Proficiency in communication and use of spreadsheet software. Interest in data driven sustainability reporting for Work closely with the rest of the food pantry team to ensure the smooth running of the food pantry. Work with customers to give them an excellent experience in the food pantry. Keep all areas organized, take donations, log inventory, and

Must have a passion for biking, Bike mechanic skills a plus, Interest in alternative, sustainable transportation, Skill in working collaboratively, and Effective communication skills. Experience working on programs to encourage alternative transportation, especially in Denver, is a bonus.
1
8 hours per week
The Bike Shop Manager may receive an hourly compensation at $16.15/hr with a max of $1400 per quarter or until a work study award is exhausted. Students choose to receive academic credit for their work in lieu of an hourly wage.
Our office is prioritizing work-study awards and for-credit applicants and has a small allocated budget for all applicants.

Bike Shop Support Staff
Perform maintenance and repairs for bikes brought to the DU Bike Shop. Prior bike mechanic knowledge not necessary, but an aptitude for working with your hands or building is a bonus. Must participate in a six week master mechanics series on campus (free for bike shop employees). Collaborate with Mobility Programmer and Bike Shop Manager to plan events and workshops in order to build a strong community of cyclists at DU. Keep detailed records of shop use and sales. Perform related work as required or assigned.
Must have a passion for biking, Bike mechanic skills a plus, Interest in alternative, sustainable transportation, Skill in working collaboratively, and Effective communication skills.
5
8 hours per week

Bike Mechanics may receive an hourly compensation at $15.87/hr with a max of $1200 per quarter or until a work study award is exhausted. Students choose to receive academic credit for their work in lieu of an hourly wage.

Our office is prioritizing work-study awards and for-credit applicants and

Work closely with the rest of the Thrift store team to ensure the smooth running of Thrift Store and Gear Garage programs. Work with customers to give them an excellent experience in the Thrift store. Keep all areas organized, take payments, log sales, and report issues and needs to leads and other teammates. Help create a fun and creative atmosphere. Attend weekly meetings with graduate fellow and undergraduate teammates. Assist in preparation of quarterly and annual reports. Perform other work as required or assigned.
Skill in working collaboratively. Proficiency in communication and use of spreadsheet software. Interest in data driven sustainability reporting for change. Interest in the environment and sustainability. Coursework, majors, or concentrations of study in sustainability, corporate social responsibility, environmental science, or economics is a plus.
5
8 hours per week
Sustainability Market Staff may receive an hourly compensation at $15.87/hr with a max of $1200 per quarter or until a work study award is exhausted. Students choose to receive academic credit for their work in lieu of an hourly wage.
Our office is prioritizing work-study awards and for-credit applicants and has a small allocated budget for all applicants.

Work will focus on planning and executing innovative and creative ways to engage the DU Community in understanding local and sustainable food options at DU and in the city, impacts of food waste on campus and in the community, as well as waste diversion best practices for everyday life. Plan events, workshops, and demonstrations that will illustrate sustainable best practices and options for increasing sustainable food access, waste minimization, and Work with Housing and Residential Education, Student Life, Facilities, and others to educate and motivate building users (students and employees) in energy and water reduction challenges, including the DU Energy Challenge in February and carbon offsets. Plan, coordinate, and execute other events targeted to educate and engage students, faculty, and staff in reducing energy and water use on campus. Work with other Programming Leads to create a holistic engagement approach for the Center for Sustainability. Attend and run weekly staff meetings and organize and manage other undergraduate employees. Plan and run weekly meetings with graduate fellow and undergraduate teammates. Assist in preparation of quarterly and annual reports. Other work as required or assigned.

Must have an interest in energy efficiency, water reduction, and behavior change strategies that border on obsessive. Skill in working collaboratively and leadership. Proficiency in communication. Interest in data driven sustainability reporting for change. Interest in the environment and sustainability. Coursework, majors, or concentrations of study in sustainability, corporate social responsibility, environmental science, or economics is a plus.
1
8 hours per week
The Energy/Water Programming Lead may receive an hourly compensation at $16.15/hr with a max of $1400 per quarter or until a work study award is exhausted. Students choose to receive academic credit for their work in lieu of an hourly wage. Our office is prioritizing work-study awards and for-credit applicants and has a small allocated budget for all applicants.

Work will focus on planning and executing innovative and creative ways to engage and encourage the DU Community to use alternative forms of transportation. Plan events, workshops, and demonstrations, that will illustrate sustainable mobility best practices and options in the DU and wider Denver area. Attend weekly staff meetings and organize/manage other undergraduate employees. Plan and run weekly meetings with graduate fellow and undergraduate teammates. Assist in preparation of quarterly and annual reports. Other work as required or assigned.
Must have a huge passion for biking, public transit, and active commuting a huge plus if you use them frequently. Bike mechanic skills a plus. Interest in alternative, sustainable transportation. Skill in working collaboratively and effective communication skills. Experience working on programs to encourage alternative transportation, especially in Denver, is a bonus.
1
8 hours per week
The Mobility Programming Lead may receive an hourly compensation at $16.15/hr with a max of $1400 per quarter or until a work study award is exhausted. Students choose to receive academic credit for their work in lieu of an hourly wage. Our office is prioritizing work-study awards and for-credit applicants and has a small allocated budget for all applicants.

Programming Support Staff

Make a difference on campus! Support education and engagement events and other programming in the Center for Sustainability with the goal of taking on leadership in future years. Work to

Must have a passion for sustainability, skill in working collaboratively, and effective communication skills. Ability to apply interdisciplinary approaches to complex problems.
3
8 hours per week
The Programming Support Staff may receive an hourly compensation at $15.87/hr with a max of $1200 per quarter or until a work study award is exhausted. Students choose to receive academic credit for their work in lieu of an hourly wage.
Our office is prioritizing work-study awards and for-credit applicants and has a small allocated budget for all applicants.

Zero Waste Events Lead

Lead efforts to continue Zero Waste practices for Ritchie Center Athletics. Recruit, train, and manage volunteers. This includes communicating volunteering needs and creating and maintaining training protocols. Manage training for Sodexo back-of-house staff at the Ritchie Center, and for game-day volunteers. Organize the weighing and sorting of game-day waste, collection of data, and creation of reports for each game. Liaison between the Center for Sustainability and facilities, custodial, food service, building managers, and others. Attend weekly staff meetings and organize other undergraduate employees and volunteers. Assist in preparation of Students choose to receive academic credit for their work in lieu of an hourly wage.

Our office is prioritizing work-study awards and for-credit applicants and has a small allocated budget for all applicants.

Waste Audit Lead
Lead efforts to move buildings at DU towards zero waste operations. Work closely with building managers, facilities, and custodial to plan and coordinate bin maps and waste audits in buildings, prepare detailed reports and feedback based on findings, create educational materials to improve building waste performance. Keep track of the list of building requests and where in the process of adding compost service they are. Attend weekly staff meetings and organize/manage other undergraduate employees and volunteers. Assist in preparation of quarterly and annual reports. Perform other work as required or assigned.
Must have an interest in sustainability and waste minimization. Skill in working collaboratively, and Effective communication skills. Must be extremely detail-oriented and organized. Experience writing technical reports a bonus. Class or volunteer experience working on campus waste programs is a bonus.
1

8 hours per week

Make a difference on campus! Support the marketing operations programs at the Center for Sustainability with the goal of taking on leadership in future years. Work to begin or continue to develop skills as a sustainability advocate and leader while linking education to action. Contribute to important communications strategies at the Center including newsletters, social media, graphic design, and other marketing and communications.
Serve as a liaison to other Center teams to assist them with Marcom needs.
Gain a deeper of knowledge about cause marketing in order to move our campus sustainability goals forward. Work with an active team to enact positive change on campus. Attend weekly team meetings, trainings, team building, and leadership workshops. Assist with the creation of quarterly and annual reports. Other work as assigned.
Must have a passion for sustainability, skill in working collaboratively, and effective communication skills. Ability to apply interdisciplinary approaches to complex problems.
4
7-10 hours per week
Marketing Team Support Staff may receive an hourly compensation at $15.87/hr with a max of $1200 per quarter or until a work study award is exhausted. Students choose to receive academic credit for their work in lieu of an hourly wage.
Our office is prioritizing work-study awards and for-credit applicants and has a small allocated budget for all applicants.